Third Annual Industry Advisory Board Best Practices Event

Wednesday, February 22, 2012

ACCE events are a great way to build relationships with educators, to provide input for program curriculum, and to network with industry peers and colleagues from across the country.

Comments from participants at the 2011 IAB Event in Fort Lauderdale:

"I enjoyed meeting and discussing how to formulate a high powered IAC! It gives me ideas to take back to our council members!"

"... Wonderful job! This was a great activity. I look forward to another successful event in Phoenix!"

Our 2012 event will be our third annual informational and networking session specifically designed for IAB members. Together, we will hear from industry experts and share what has been most successful for our Industry Advisory Boards and Construction Management Programs.

Please mark your calendar and plan to join us at the
ACCE Mid-Year Meeting / Phoenix, AZ!

ACCE

The mission of the American Council for Construction Education (ACCE) is to be a leading global advocate of quality construction education programs and to promote, support, and accredit quality construction education programs. Through promotion and continued improvement of postsecondary construction education, ACCE accredits construction education programs in colleges and universities that request its evaluation and meet its standards and criteria. ACCE is recognized by the Council for Higher Education Accreditation (CHEA) as the accrediting agency for Baccalaureate and Associate Degree programs in construction, construction science, construction management and construction technology located in North America and Australia.
